Capturing our voices: Using Digital Video

Learning Outcome

A twilight session to explore how to capture student voices through digital video.

Teachers will be shown examples of student voice on the East End Talking website, and then be given the opportunity to create their own short video clips with hands on experience of digital video kits.

Teachers will leave with a step by step booklet, as well as free loan of a digital video media kit for half a term.

Schools may also choose to have an experienced ICT teacher work with them.

Event Process

To be introduced to student voice, through pupils' own digital video and webpages. Media kit equipment and digital video demonstration including common pitfalls, with hands-on experience using media kit.

You will learn how to digitally film, edit and storyboard to create short videos for school

Examples of student voice showcasing New Arrivals, Road Safety, school Councils, lobbying and campaigning on the East End Talking website www.eastendtalking.org.uk

Media kit will includes a camera, camcorder, ibook, tripod, microphone, iphoto and imovie software.
